GOT YOUR BACK

A CONTAINED HORROR FEATURE

LOGLINE

An up-and-coming novelist and her former college housemates must put past resentments aside in order to stop a merciless killer who turns their high-spirited reunion into a terrifying trap.

COMPS

Bodies, Bodies, Bodies meets The Invitation

THE STORY

Old college friends reunite every year at a remote Canadian cabin where inside jokes and reminiscences are shared. It's a joyous celebration until one of the group is brutally murdered. Past betrayals and deeply buried secrets surface and the friends each question whether or not anyone truly has their back.

THE SETTING

LAKE MACHI MANITO, CANADA

A remote Canadian lake accessible only by float plane. Rueben's family has "owned" the lake for generations after his great-great grandfather bilked the First Nations Cree people out of their land. Through Rueben's generosity, the cabin and lake are the annual gathering place for the college friends.

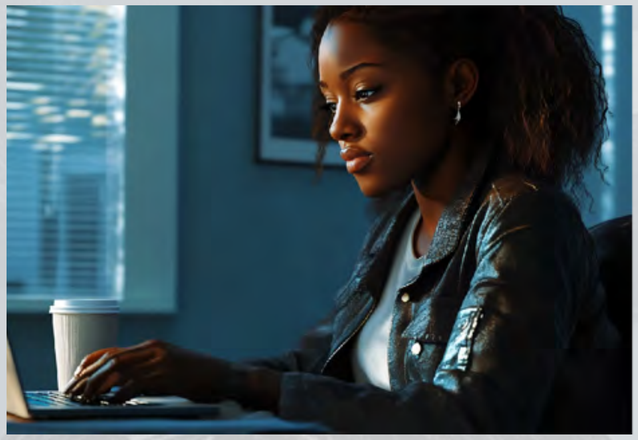

CHARACTERS

THE NOVELIST

ROZ

Rosamund "Roz" Campbell is an up-and-coming novelist. She's a loyal friend, quick-witted and can always justify her own actions—even when they seem questionable to others. She still holds a torch–and resentment–for former boyfriend, Sonny. She was recently placed on the short list for the National Book Award, but is the story really hers?

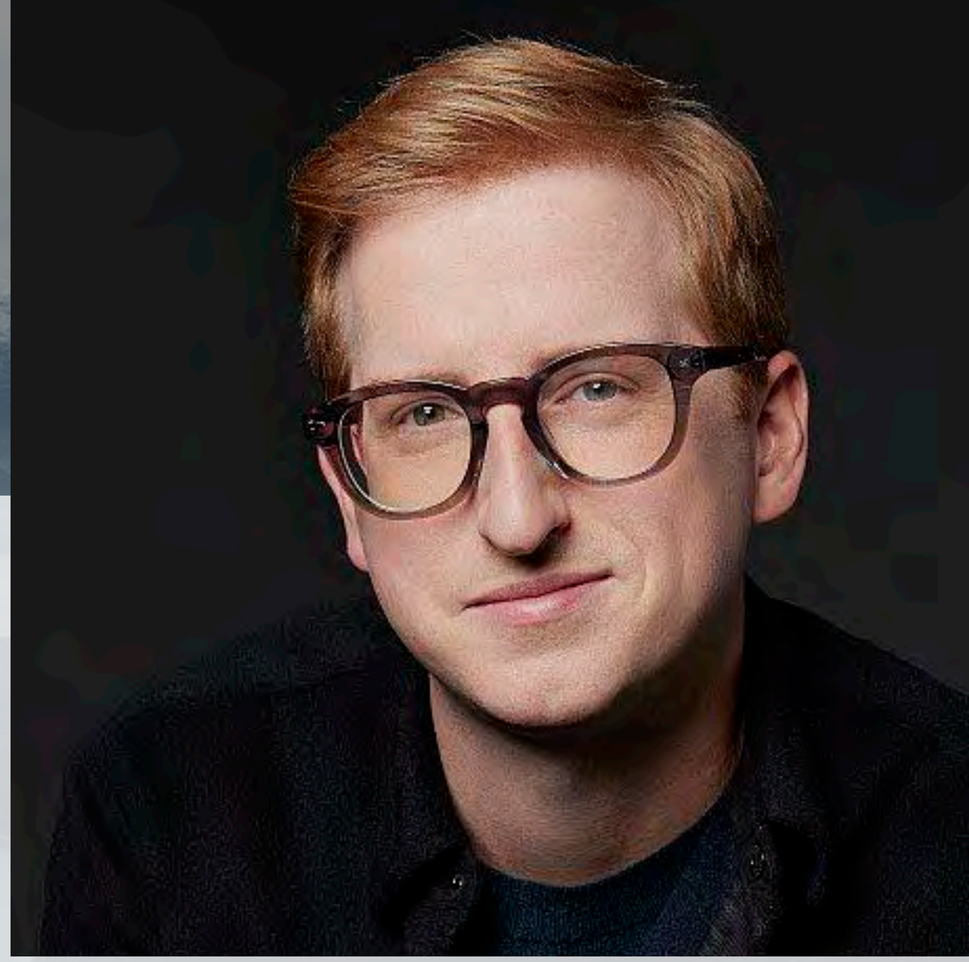

CHARACTERS

THE PHARMA MOGUL

RUEBEN

Rueben is in charge of his family's pharmaceutical empire after his parents' early deaths. Along with the company, he inherited all the dirty dealings of his family. He has always harbored feelings for Roz but feels unworthy of someone so cool. Rueben loves his friends, but do they only love him for his money?

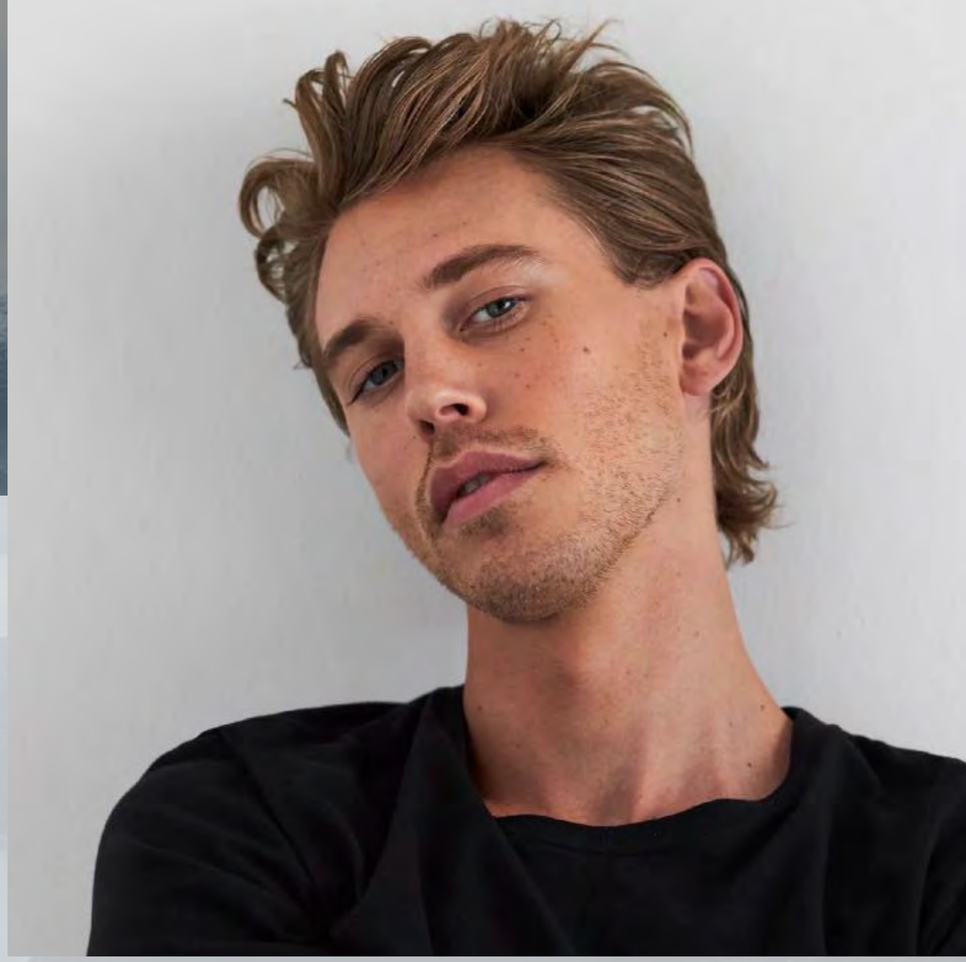

CHARACTERS

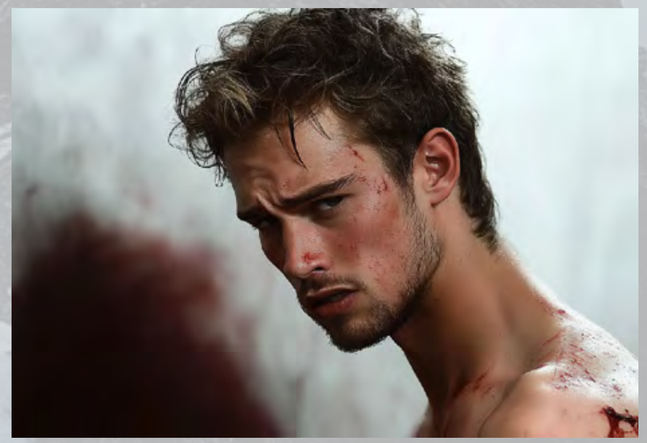

THE ACTOR

PATRICK

Patrick had his first commercial at age six. It might have been his career highlight. He has a modest acting career, getting by on his charm and good looks. The group puts up with him even though he mooches off all of them. His side gig is being a sperm donor through Rueben’s cryo-bank, but would he qualify if he didn’t know the big boss?

CHARACTERS

THE NURSE

BEAN

Rebena, “Bean,” is the first in her family to go to college. As a nurse, she now runs the women’s health clinics associated with Rueben’s company. Bean is angry about Rueben’s plan to close the clinics due to political pressure. She’s a passionate activist who is quick to point out others’ hypocrisies, but is she hiding a few dark secrets of her own?

CHARACTERS

THE SPECIAL ED TEACHER

BETHANY

Bethany is the newcomer of the group. She and Sonny teach at the same school and started dating a few months ago. Bethany is a special-ed teacher and has a side-business on Etsy making embroidered items. She uses her sweet Southern charm to win over Sonny’s friends, but does she have an ulterior motive?

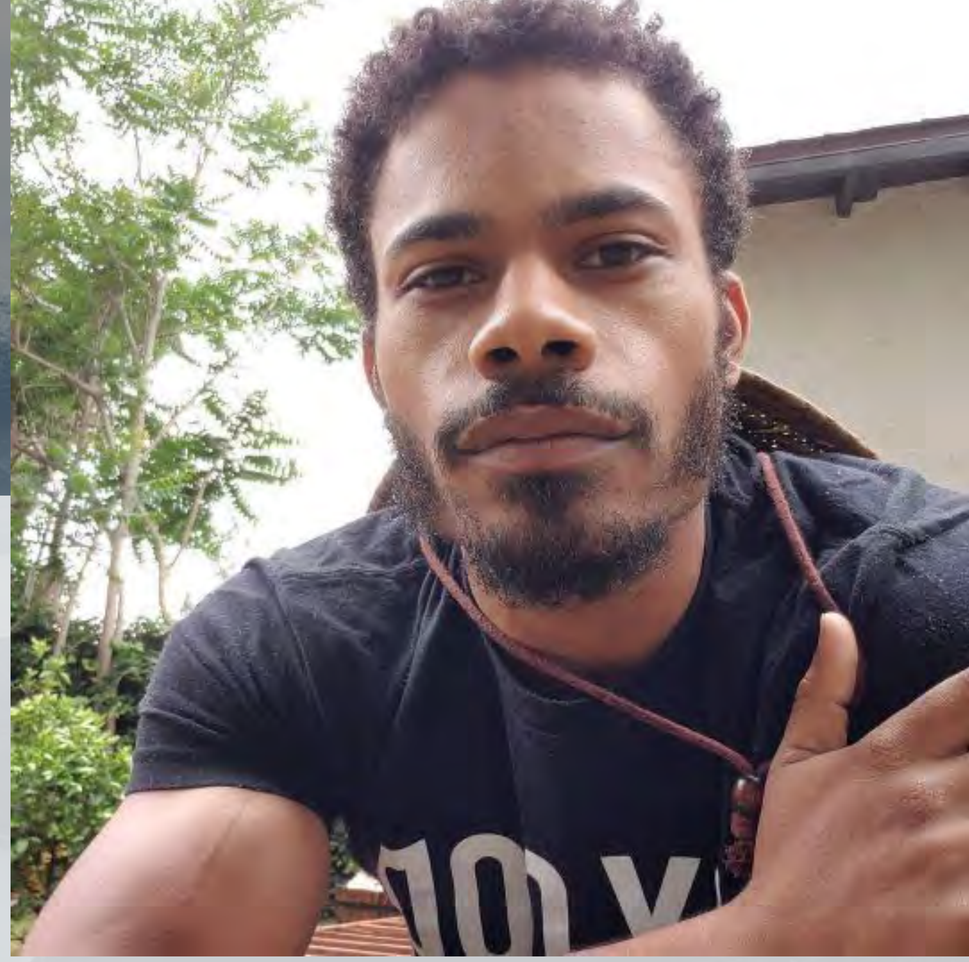

CHARACTERS

THE COACH

SONNY

Sonny is a Special Olympics coach and teacher who wants to quit teaching to start his own micro-brewery. He needs start-up capital and pressures Rueben to invest. He and Roz were inseparable in college until late in their senior year when Sonny slept with Roz's cousin. Now he's with Bethany, but is it love or just the need for a woman on his arm?

THE SCREENWRITER

Katy Dore is a screenwriter and director who creates TV and film projects with relatable underdog stories and social relevance. Her historic TV drama about Mary Ellen Pleasant, is currently in pre-production with Quincy Jones Productions, Flavor Unit and Goldmann Pictures. She is the writer and director of the award-winning short films ODD BIRD and ALOHA MEANS I LOVE YOU. Her short film script PERFECT was selected as the Grand Prize Winner for the Palm Springs Women in Film and Television/Stage 32 Short Script Contest. She is the co-director of the award-winning feature film, GIFT OF FEAR, currently available on Amazon. Katy earned her undergraduate degree at Stanford University and an MFA at the Academy of Art in San Francisco. When Katy isn't writing or directing, you can find her playing tennis, hiking or fly-fishing.
